Religious Census Scheduled in Hope Sunday Afternoon

Lack of Sunday Attendance Leads to Juvenile Crime

MINISTERS' SERIES

Rev. Bert Webb Writes Today's Article on Religious Census

BY REV. BERT WEBB

The business of the church in any community is first to minister to the spiritual needs of that community.

That is the primary purpose of the religious census to be taken in Hope Sunday afternoon when the workers from the churches in this city will call at the homes and secure the necessary information for the beginning of a more intensive effort along this line.

Today there are approximately 17,000 boys and girls in America who are not in Sunday school and at least several hundred of them live in and around Hope. In recent years there has been an appalling decrease in Sunday school attendance, 20 per cent in the last four years. This means that between three and four million who were in Sunday school for years ago are not attending today.

Increase in Crime

Is it not significant that with this falling off there has come an increase in juvenile crime? J. Edgar Hoover, head of the "G" Men says that there are so many being convicted of crime of the ages 16 and 18 that the average age of all convicts in penitentiaries is only 19.

Now here is the thing that should startle every thinking man and woman into action:

Judges testify that of the youth convicted of crime, 97 per cent have had no religious training at all and only 3 per cent come from the ranks of the Sunday school.

Religious Census Sunday

The religious census that shall be taken Sunday is not a drive for Sunday school alone but an earnest effort by the churches of Hope to interest men and women and boys and girls of our city in the church activities and the religious life of the community.

None of us would raise our families in a city where there was no church, such a thing would be unthinkable. There is a great need for more active effort along this line and the census is the first step in that direction.

It is sincerely hoped that every citizen who is contacted will cheerfully give the information desired by the workers and further, will put forth more effort in the future to interest friends and neighbors in the church and its program to the religious life of any city should be a vital factor in its existence and should govern many of its policies and activities.

Workers from the churches of Hope have consolidated their efforts for this survey and will be contacting you early on Sunday afternoon, cooperate with them to the fullest extent.

"Giggle Smoke" Is Object U. S. Probe

Narcotic Agents Driving Against Mexican Weed, Marijuana

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The federal government has formally entered the war against America's newest narcotic menace, the marijuana cigarette.

When the potent Harbison narcotic was passed in 1914, "giggle smokes" were known only to a handful of Mexicans in the southwest and escaped inclusion. In the post-war jazz age they attracted attention of western police officers as a frequent factor in juvenile crime, and by 1937 their danger was so widely recognized that 46 of the 48 states had outlawed them.

Easily Concealed

Now, under the form of an "excuse as law," congress had empowered J. Edgar Hoover's trained dope hunters to go into action against marijuana.

"Marijuana is raised largely by Mexicans in the midst of cornfields," says N. G. Walker, chief of the California division of narcotic enforcement. "Five hundred pounds may be grown in a patch 100 feet square and hidden in 100 acres of corn."

"We have found it among the plants of a man's backyard garden and a park aborer even sowed it among his flower beds. The ordinary birdseed you buy for a century is marijuana seed, so you see it is easy to start a crop."

Most Smokers Young

In late summer, the plant's narrow leaves exude a powerful narcotic resin. The branches then are harvested, dried in the sun, crushed and rolled into cigarettes. These normally sell for 25 cents each.

A nationwide survey by Dr. Frank T. Gomila, New Orleans commissioner of public health, shows a large proportion of marijuana smokers are boys and girls between 18 and 21. They refer to the cigarettes as "muggles," and to the effect as a "giggle." One cigarette of pure marijuana is usually good for a three-hour giggle.

One day he received a letter enclosing a blank form to be filled out. The letter stated that a new edition of "Sollwell's Business Directory" was in progress, and asked that Mr. Sparks fill out, sign and mail the blank, giving such information about his business as would be of interest to buyers and purchasing agents.

Pleased to have his name and products thus brought to the attention of prospective buyers, Sparks promptly complied with the request.

A few weeks later, during his absence, a collector called and presented a bill to Mr. Smith, the treasurer, for $100 for a one-page advertisement in "Sollwell's Buyers Guide."

"Mr. Sparks is away," said Smith, "and I don't know anything about this matter."

"Aren't you an officer of the company?" asked the collector.

"Yes, but Mr. Sparks usually takes care of the advertising."

"Well," said the collector, "here is the contract Mr. Sparks signed for the advertisement, with the terms—cash on presentation of proof." And here's the proof of the page in our new edition.

"That's different," said Smith. "Since Mr. Sparks ordered it, I'll give you a check."

"And will you just sign this voucher for our auditing department?" the collector requested.

As the voucher simply stated that the company had paid $100 for a one-page advertisement, as per contract, the treasurer signed it. The collector departed with check and voucher, and the matter was forgotten.

Some weeks later another collector called and presented a bill to Jared Sparks. It, also, was for $100 for a one-page advertisement in "Sollwell's Buyers Guide."

"I didn't order this insertion," said Sparks. "I never have found this kind of advertising profitable, and have done none of it for years!"

"Here's the contract," said the collector. "It was signed by the treasurer, Mr. Smith."

Sparks immediately sent for the treasurer. "Mr. Smith," he said, "I doubt the advisability of advertising in these 'buyers guides.' Pay this bill, but in the future, we'll confine our advertising efforts to the regular channels."

Smith was not shown the contract, and if he wondered why Sparks had spoken as he had, he made no comment. He paid the bill and signed the "voucher" for the auditing department, as before.

A month passed and Smith was again summoned to Jared Sparks' office. "Mr. Smith," said Sparks, sharply, "I thought I made it plain that I didn't want any more ads placed in trade directories."

"You certainly did, Mr. Sparks!" "Then what does this mean?"

Smith examined the bill. "Why," he said, "it looks like another of those ads you've been placing. I paid the first one when you were away, and you authorized me to pay another, about a month ago!"

"I haven't placed an ad of that kind for years!" Sparks shouted. "You signed the contract for the one we paid a month ago—and you signed this one! Is that your signature?"

Smith scanned the card. "It's my signature, all right! But I never signed that contract—or any like it! There's something wrong here! Where's the man who brought the contract?"

Sparks, nevertheless, instructed Smith to pay the bill—with the final admonition: "Don't sign any more receipts, vouchers or anything else! If there's

Hope Machine Fails to Get Going Early in Bit-ter Cold

By LEONARD ELLIS

Before approximately 1,500 shivering fans, the Hope High School football team defeated Nashville, 25 to 0.

The Bobcats, making 15 first downs to Nashville's one, muffed three scoring opportunities but finally capitalized on the fourth to lead at the half, 6 to 0.

Total first downs were Hope 25, Nashville four. Scoring touchdowns for Hope were Vasec Bright, Bobcat quarterback, two; Edward Aslin one, and Noble Masters, one.

Nashville, relying principally upon passes for its gains, never threatened to score, advancing beyond the 50-yard line only once during the game.

Stone at Fullback

The Bobcat offense was led by Bright, Masters and Freeman Stone, the latter playing in the fullback role during the first half in place of the injured Joe Eason. Stone proved to be a powerhouse in the backfield, gaining consistently when given an opportunity to carry the ball.

Hope's victory over Nashville Friday night was the third in the past three years.

The Nashville team attempted 14 passes, completing three and had five intercepted. Hope attempted eight, completed two and had three intercepted. Hope lost 10 yards on two off-side penalties. Nashville suffered no loss in yardage from penalties.

The Bobcats took the kickoff to start the game, Bright receiving the ball and returning to his 30-yard line. On a series of line and off-line plays by Bright and Stone, the Bobcats took the ball straight up the field to the 11-yard line.

Stone fumbled, but recovered for a small loss. Bright was thrown for a one-yard loss. On two other tries the Bobcats were unable to make a first down and Nashville took the ball.

In the first play, R. Tollett passed to Robson, fullback, for 30 yards. Two line plays failed and Tollett attempted to pass, Bright intercepting and

Motion Pictures 5th Big Industry

R. V. McGinnis Speaks on Hollywood Before Hope Rotarians

The motion picture industry, now 33 years old, is the fifth largest enterprise in the world, R. V. McGinnis, manager of the New theater, told Hope Rotary club at its luncheon meeting Friday at hotel Barlow.

Motion picture theaters in the United States gross more than a billion dollars each year. The average citizen spends approximately 28 cents per week in attending motion picture films.

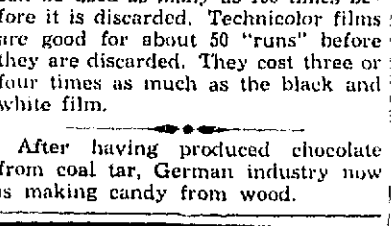

Admission charges up to 40 cents are free of federal taxes, but from 40 cents up, theaters are taxed 10 per cent by the federal government. Local and state taxes vary.

Motion picture players draw as high as $300,000 per year as salary. The lowest paid players receive $5 per day. They are termed "extras." Stars receiving $300,000 salaries are taxed so heavily so only net approximately 25 per cent.

Most of the motion pictures are produced in Hollywood, Calif., and are distributed over the United States and Canada through 32 key cities.

Films are inspected for damage after each showing. A black and white film can be used as many as 100 times before it is discarded. Technicolor films are good for about 50 "runs" before they are discarded. They cost three or four times as much as the black and white film.

After having produced chocolate from coal tar, German industry now is making candy from wood.

Fascist Powers Block Spanish Solution—Chinese Claim Win

By the Associated Press

Negotiations to restore non-intervention in warring Spain developed fresh difficulties Saturday, leaving only a remote possibility of early government.

The latest stumbling-block was refusal of Italy, Germany and Portugal to agree on the procedure for removing foreign soldiery from the Spanish conflict.

There was no lull on the battle-fronts Saturday.

Reports received at Hendaye, Franco-Spanish frontier, said the Spanish government was rushing reinforcements to the Aragon front to meet assaults by the strengthened insurgent forces against either Valencia or Catalonia.

The government ministries at Valencia, the temporary capital, began moving to Barcelona, capital of autonomous but allied Catalonia.

In the war-clouded Orient, a Chinese spokesman at Shanghai said the Chinese forces had definitely checked the Japanese threat to Peking after 70 hours of bitter fighting on the front north of Shanghai.

Interest in Human Happiness Always Keenest in Depression

This is the fourth of five stories on the diverse roads down which millions are drawn in today's frantic pursuit of happiness.

By WILLIS THORNTON

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

The novelist who sells as many as 7500 copies of his book considers that he has a great success. And the non-fiction book that sells 5000 copies is doing very well indeed.

So when Mr. Dale Carnegie's book "How to Win Friends and Influence People" sells more than 800,000 copies, you may fairly conclude that Mr. Carnegie has got something there.

He has. And so has Mrs. Dorothea Brande, whose "Wake Up and Live" sold more than 125,000. And so has Marjorie Hillis, whose "Live Alone and Like It" has soared on above 120,000. What with the circulating libraries, these figures mean literally millions of readers.

Millions of people, you see, who after living 30, 40 or 50 years suddenly looked at their lives and said, "What! Still working for old Smogg?" Or surveyed their failures in love and friendship, their lack of pre-eminence socially, and said, "Gosh! Surely I can't be as bad as all this!"

Whereupon they began to look about them for a guide out of the wilderness of personal and business mediocrity. And the guide was waiting, bound in neat covers, at $2.50.

Blame the Depression

There's little that's new about them. Fifty years ago, points out Miss Hillis, there was a book on "How You Can Charm Those You Meet and Make Them Love You," which certainly borders closely on the territory now being occupied so impressively by Mr. Carnegie.

Marjorie Hillis

It was the depression, believes Miss Hillis, that brought the search for happiness to its present furious tempo.

Killing Frost for Hope on Saturday

Experiment Station Reports Low Temperature of 28 Degrees

The mercury dropped four degrees below freezing for a low of 28 on the University of Arkansas Fruit & Truck Branch Experiment station thermometer here early Saturday morning.

The cold snap was accompanied by a killing frost.

The low was registered about 6 a. m. Saturday.

An hour later, at 7 a. m. the mercury stood at 29 degrees. A clear sky and sunshine brought the mercury up to 30 by 10 a. m.

The Saturday morning minimum of 28 degrees is the lowest yet registered this fall. On the morning of October 14 the mercury fell to 33 1/2 degrees.

A light frost was noted at that time, but a survey showed no damage.

Saturday morning's low temperature an frost killed most tender plants that were unprotected.

Freezing in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK.—(P)—The coldest weather of fall prevailed in Arkansas Saturday, with sub-freezing temperatures reported in many sections—but the forecast was for moderated conditions Saturday night and Sunday.

The lowest temperatures were reported Saturday by Bentonville and Monticello, with 24.

Such similarly widely separated points as Batesville, Dardanelle, Helena and Searcy reported 26. Little Rock's low was 31.

A heavy frost was general.

Weather Observer H. E. Baughman said a temperature of 29 degrees reported Friday night at Fort Smith was the lowest ever recorded there at this time of year.

Roosevelt Warns Control Can Not Draw on Treasury

If Cost Is Increased, Taxes Must Be Increased Also, He Says

MAY AVERT TAXES

Jones, of House Agriculture Committee, Thinks It Possible

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Chairman Jones, Texas Democrat, of the house agriculture committee, made public Saturday a letter from President Roosevelt saying new taxes would be necessary if the cost of the crop control program is increased by the special session of congress which is convened next month.

"It is of course especially important that any new legislation should not unbalance the expected balancing of the budget," the president wrote.

"In other words, no additional federal expenditures from the general treasury fund should be made over and above existing planned expenditures. The only exception to this would be the incurring of additional obligations on the part of the Treasury, backed 100 per cent by additional receipts from new taxes."

"In other words, whatever goes out must be balanced by an equivalent amount coming in."

Congress appropriated approximately $1 1/2 billion dollars for soil conservation during the current year.

In making public the president's letter Jones said:

"I feel confident legislation can be worked out embodying these principles."

He added that he was "hopeful we may have a bill ready for consideration in the early part of the session."

Despondent, He Uses Gun to End His Life

PINE BLUFF.—(P)—Douglas Craig, 25, zridgeman for the Cotton Belt railway and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Craig, was found dead at his parents' home at noon Friday, shot through the heart. A .22 caliber pistol was found lying near the body.

Craig, who had been in ill health and was forced to give up work with a bridge crew in Missouri several weeks ago, had been downtown members of his family told Corner D. C. Root, and returned home in a taxi about noon. After telling his mother that he did not want lunch, he went to his room on the second floor. A few moments later a shot was heard. He is survived by his parents and four brothers.

AMUSEMENTS—WHERE TO GO

"Charlie Chan" at Rialto on Sunday

Warner Oland at the Rialto Sunday Through Tuesday

This "Charlie Chan" is a good mystery melodrama. While built along the general lines of the earlier numbers of the series, it differs in that the story does not include as much romance. There is comedy, however. The story idea has been somewhat revised and quality of production support has been improved. Warner Oland, a fixture in the series, gives his usual capable performance, and Keya Luke, whose role as his Number One son, is being made increasingly important, is up to standard. Effective support is contributed by the featured players, Joan Marsh, J. Edward Bromberg, Douglas Fowley, Harold Huber, Donald Woods and Louise Henry. The picture shows Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Rialto.

For this adventure "Charlie Chan" becomes involved in weird doings of those who live on the shadowy side of New York's night club, political and newspaper life. A girl and a man, whose characters have been built up to create the illusion that they are menaces to a lot of persons, are murdered, and by force of circumstances "Charlie's" son, "Lee," is implicated. Called in by the police who were welcoming him to the city, "Chan" is confronted by a maze of circumstances and one cannot go wrong when he sees "Charlie Chan on Broadway."

Approximately 6,000,000 state hunting licenses are issued each year in the United States.

"Thin Ice" at Saenger Sunday

A gay and magnificent musical that skims in shimmering delight along the silvery Alpine slopes, snow-drenched with dazzling spectacle and exciting beauty, heart-warming with riotous fun and young romance, brings Sonja Henie and Tyrone Power together, as you wanted them to be, thrilling, as you knew they'd be in "Thin Ice," which opens Sunday at the Saenger Theater. Topping all her triumphs of "One in a Million," Miss Henie is more radiantly exciting than ever as she displays new beauty, new daring and new breath-taking thrills.

All-Star Cast in Film at the New

"Call It a Day" Presents Stage Favorites Here Sunday

For a couple of years in London and then for over a year in New York there ran with great success a play by an Englishwoman, Dodie Smith, entitled "Call It a Day."

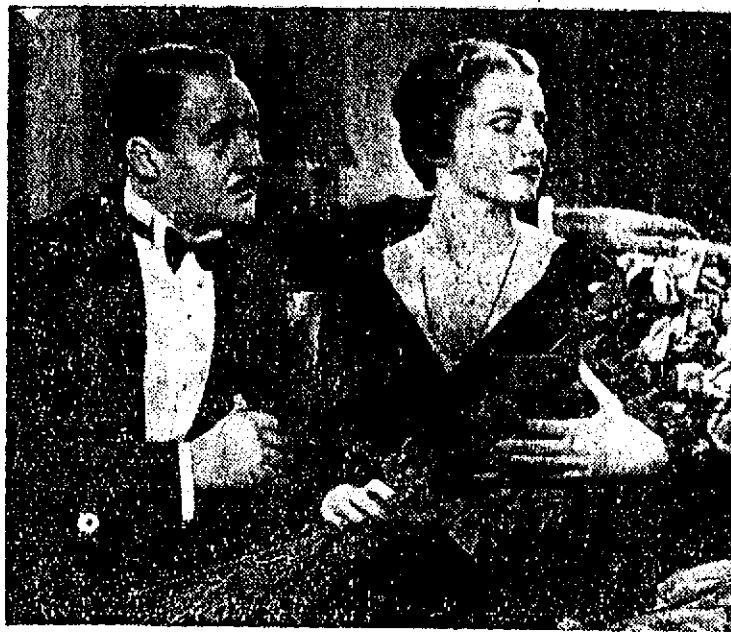

It delighted audiences because it was "different." In fact, nothing just like it had ever been presented before. It was the story of the reactions of the various members of a nice suburban family to the first touch of spring, with its balmy, pulsating warmth and fragrance.

They all fell in love—or at least they thought they did—which seems perfectly natural. But at the end of the evening, when they were all ready to "Call It a Day," well, that was something different.

As a movie, the comedy-drama, a Cosmopolitan production released by Warner Bros., will open at the New Theater on Sunday.

It is a smart sophisticated film, depending to a considerable extent upon brilliant dialogue and upon brilliant performances. The dialogue was there already, from Miss Smith's pen, and so Director Archie Mayo insured his performances by assembling a truly remarkable cast.

"Call It a Day" Film at New

Ian Hunter is the husband who was forthright and faithful until spring came along, and Frieda Inescort is his wife of long standing who'd stood alone enough, in "Call It a Day" the screen's chuckle-champion of 1937, which comes to the New Theater, on Sunday.

Jack Benny Plays Role of an Extra

But It's an Accident, in "This Way Please," at Saenger

One of the most expensive extra ever to take part in a scene is in "This Way Please," which appears Thursday and Friday at the Saenger. Paramount pays him $100,000 a year for his services, but he got just sixty cents for his bit in "This Way Please." The actor is Jack Benny, who happened to be on the set to watch his wife and radio teammate, Mary Livingston, while she was playing her role in the film.

Benny, accompanied by comedian cut down sales.

And they are encouraged to take some time out during the lunch hour to groom themselves for the afternoon rush of customers. This is a wise precaution because the average shopper gets pretty jaded in the afternoon and the sight of a fresh, well-groomed salesgirl is a real restorative.

Benny Baker, was just looking on, and wandered into a theater foyer crowd scene in which Mary was an usherette. On Meeting her husband unexpectedly, she blew up in her lines. Robert Florey fixed it up, though, to remake the scene with Benny and Baker in it, and to give Benny a line to speak. They ran through the scene and went on about their business, and the studio felt duty bound to pay both actors for their efforts.

Two checks, for sixty cents each, were made out; to Jack O'Benny and Benny O'Baker.

All the names in "This Way Please" are not in the extra ranks, however. Fibber McGee and Molly of radio fame, Charles "Buddy" Rogers, Ned "Ficklepudd" Sparks, Betty Grable, Porter Hall and Lee Bowman complete the cast.

True Nobility
Honour and shame from no condition rise;
Act well your part, there all the honour lies.
Fortune in men has some small difference made,
One flouts in rage, one flutters in breeze;
The cobbler aproned, and the parson gownned,
The friar hooded, and the monarch crowned.
"What differ more (you cry) than crown and cow?"
I'll tell you, friend; a wise man and a fool,
You'll find, if once the monarch acts the monk,
Or, cobbler-like, the parson will be drunk.
Worth makes the man, and want of it the fellow;
The rest is all but leather or prunello.—Selected.

Every Clown an Uncle When Baby Visits Barney Bros. Circus

write jester in all the motley of cap and bells.

"Bring on the clowns!" cry the children of today at the circus, and forthwith come romping, tumbling, and skylarking an army of merry mad-caps.

The origin of the clown is shrouded in mystery, but it is safe to say that the illustrious Maccus of ancient Rome was assuredly the predecessor of our own immortal Dan Rice.

Through the ages, clowns have been benefactors of mankind. It is interesting to circus lovers to note that the slang term for a clown around the circus is "Joey." This affectionate synonym dates back to the days of the great Joseph Grimaldi, the illustrious English clown who was always called "Joey," and nothing else. Every clown since Grimaldi's time has been dubbed "Joey."

There are a hundred clever clowns from all corners of the globe with the Barney Bros. Circus, and through the cooperation of the merchants of Hope, it has been made possible for you to attend this circus for 15c for children and 25c for adults, instead of 25c for children and 50c for adults which is the regular price of the tickets if you buy them at the circus ticket wagon.

If you will go to any of the merchants listed below they will be glad to give you a merchants guest ticket, which you present at ticket wagon on circus day with a 15c service charge for a child and 25c service for an adult ticket. These tickets will admit you to see the main circus performance without any further cost, unless you should desire a center section grandstand reserved seat, which can be purchased on the circus grounds for 15c extra.

Many merchants will have special bargains to offer you on circus day. So come to Hope on September 27, and patronize the merchants who have made this circus bargain possible and see a real circus at a nominal cost.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
W. R. Hamilton, Pastor
Sunday is one of the most important days for many a month. More workers will enroll in the Training Course of this church which will be held Monday through Friday night. A religious census will be taken of the whole city.
About sixty have enrolled in the Training School classes, we want at least one hundred more. Won't you come and enjoy a week of fellowship and instruction with us? This is a rare opportunity and it may be several years before one like this will come again. If you want to know how to build a great Sunday School come to our Training Course. A nursery and supervised study hall will be held each night for the children. Workers from other churches are invited.
One hundred census takers are needed by the First Baptist church for Sunday afternoon. A number who volunteered to help were unable to attend the meeting on Thursday night. There were forty-two present from this church. Let all who have volunteered be joined by thirty or forty who will decide to work Sunday in the dining room of the Educational Building immediately following the morning church service. The more workers we have, the more easily the task can be accomplished.
The pastor will preach Sunday morning on "Aggressive Christianity." The service will be shortened to permit census takers to have lunch at the church and begin work by 12:30 or 12:45. In this way they may be able to report results of their census completed by 2:30 or 3:00.
A great popular service is being planned for Sunday night. The pastor's subject will be: "By the Divine Touch." This service will open at 7:30. Sunday school as usual at 9:45 and Baptist Training Union at 6:30. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone.

Sunday school is to meet at 9:45. We urge all to be present and on time. Our superintendent is working hard to build a good Sunday school; let us do what we can to help in this great work. Our pastor will preach at the 11 o'clock hour and after the sermon these planning to help in the census work will have lunch at the church and start their work by 12:15 p. m. B. Y. P. T. C. will meet at 6:30 p. m. We are to be honored in the evening service by having with us Dr. J. E. Cobb, Secretary and Treasurer of the American Baptist Association. He will preach for the church at 7:30 p. m. Dr. Cobb is an outstanding preacher and we feel sure that you will want to hear him.
